SYSTEM

for 2 press Vacuum Pressing System with Bio HPP (PEEK) Material

- For 2 press vacuum press device for the manufacture of metal-free and bio-compatible substructures.
- The thermostatic high-performance polymer BioHPP is processed into a mould made of phosphate - bonded investment material. The end result is a metal-free white framework structure, which bonds extremely well with traditional composite veneers individually and in a highly aesthetic manner.
- Low initial investment to create frame works compared to milling solutions.
- Available in Ingots or Disc for Milling

Core3d Milling Centres – It's about connections.

This past summer Central Dental Ltd. and Core3d Milling Centres entered into an exclusive sales partnership for Canada so that we could provide access for dental technicians and denturists to the means to respond to the avalanche of change in dental technology being driven by digital technologies.

Every day more dentists are demanding prosthetic solutions that are digitally driven, from full-contour zirconia crowns to milled implant abutments to printed models for C&B work derived from intra-oral scanners. Accessing the workflows and processes to obtain these solutions for your clients can often be confusing and intimidating. Do you have the right scanner and software? Can the digital files you receive or create be received and processed by the outsource partners you would like to work with? What product options do you have to select from? Are you getting the level of technical support needed to successfully complete your more complex cases?

Core3d Milling Centres have the processes and systems that allow you easily and efficiently connect to a wide range of solutions, and are committed to levels of technical support and product quality that will allow to not only meet the demands of your existing clients but also reach out into your market place to connect with new dentists/patients demanding digitally-driven dentistry.

Some of the Core3d solutions are:

- Full contour zirconia crowns and bridges
- Emax crowns and bridges
- Custom-milled implant abutments
- Custom-milled implant bars
- Milled models for Itero scanners
- Printed models for a range of intra-oral scanners

For help in understanding and connecting to the full range of solutions from Core3d please speak to your Central Dental Ltd. sales representative or call us at -1-800-268-4442.
