HUGE NEW PRODUCT LAUNCH

IMPAK

Unmatched in the market, unparalleled in comfort

IMPAK is an acrylic material with unique physical properties, characterized by softening when heated and returning to its original hard state when cooled. This characteristic makes IMPAK more comfortable to wear inside the mouth than other materials.

position

- Patient can continue using the present denture while enjoying better retention and physiological (natural) chewing sensation.
- Patient does not need to come to the clinic every three months to change the locator matrices.
- The handling of TiSi.snap+retention.sil is consistent with the use of soft denture liners. Thus allowing the clinician an optimal use of chairside time.
- TiSi.snap comes in different heights allowing easy maneuvering in the mouth depending on available interarch space.
- retention.sil comes in 3 different resilience hardnesses for optimal retention
